

Harringay Warehouse Bubbles.

Harringay Warehouse Bubbles nourishes the clash of differences. It frees one neutral public space on the ground to let the inhabitants of the district occupy the place as they want. The essence of the community is embedded in the cloud like ceiling. There are as many color bubbles as there are personalities and expressions occupying the Harringay district. It symbolizes the common effort , little by little, bringing the warehouse to the state it is today. The warehouse bubbles is quirky, fun and is an easily buildable structure as the community is used to invest the Harringay Warehouse.

The warehouse bubbles is a new kind of public space thanks to the Warehouse community. They create, they show, they organize an alternative way of occupying public space. The Warehouse bubbles offers the playful landscape to foster all the artistic expression taking its inspiration from the community's philosophy.
